About Dance Project: the School at City Arts

We are accessible quality instruction, igniting a passion for dance. We provide comprehensive training for people of all ages and skill levels in a nurturing atmosphere that fosters growth, a healthy lifestyle, self-esteem and artistry. We focus on teaching the whole dancer in a non-competitive environment where dancing is fun and rewarding. Our students learn an awareness of how the body works and how movement can be used expressively. We teach fundamentals and details of each technique we offer, yet allow for individual exploration and discovery. All of our teachers are college educated dance professionals with prior instructional experience and passion for their art form. We love what we do, and strive to instill a similar passion within our students.

At Dance Project, we strive to instill a sense of community awareness and service. Thus we join our dance training with opportunities for community performance and outreach. Each spring, students participate in our Spring Showcase for their family and friends, and you might also see us out performing in various Greensboro locations - retirement centers, schools, fairs, etc! Additionally, we offer need-based scholarships and keep our costs low to make our program more accessible to the community.

Whether you are looking for a new experience, a means of staying fit, or a professional career, you and your child deserve the best instruction around. From all the teachers and staff at Dance Project, we hope you enjoy dancing with us!
